Washington D.C. – 03/28/2017 – The National Association of Nonprofit Organizations and Executives (NANOE) is pleased to announce the appointment of Ethics Matter to NANOE’s prestigious 2017 Board of Governors. Matter will be honored alongside fellow Governors March 7-8, 2017 in Columbia, SC at NANOE’s 2017 Capacity-Building Convention & Expo. This 2-day caucus is critical to charity’s future and will rely on a myriad of industry experts to renew, improve, strengthen and distribute a new set of guidelines that super-charge nonprofit capacity-building.

“Charity” has been paralyzed by a set of failed “best practices” that turned the Non-Profit Sector into a Non-Growth Sector decades ago. Present day systems were established in the late 1950’s by industry associations that knowingly persist in methodologies detrimental to the general public. In response, the National Association of Nonprofit Organizations & Executives formed a working group of thought-leaders (renowned practitioners, volunteers, academicians and philanthropists from around the world) to research and develop a new set of capacity-building “competencies” that empower nonprofit in ways previously thought to be impossible. This esteemed group has completed phase one and will submit 60 new key practices to NANOE’s Board of Governors for evaluation. Governors will review, expand and/or redact these key practices during annual convention and will emerge with a new set of competencies that increase sector impact.

Headquartered in Washington, D.C. NANOE is the only unifying nationwide association for charitable organizations and executives who serve the human welfare, education, healthcare, faith-cause, environmental and arts sectors.
